Come join me in the quiet and beautiful mountain settings of the William Holland School of Lapidary Arts located in Young Harris, Georgia. I will be instructing for all those interested in learning this art form in a week long course during the week of:

June 7th thru June 12th, 2010

Here is your opportunity to get hands on instruction in a week long class where you will complete several projects I have selected that introduce you to this art form. You will be working on a variety of materials as you advance to working on legal pieces of estate ivory cabochons. You will learn about techniques, crosshatching and stippling, different types of scrim-able materials, tools, resources, and more as I introduce you to this art form and get you started on your way.

Please check the William Holland School of Lapidary Art for registration information, room and board costs, cost for the class and the accompanying scrimshaw kit. I hope to see you there! Class space is limited to a number of 8 students so please don't wait to take advantage of this upcoming class.
